"Success is driven by the ability to adapt, communicate effectively, and lead with purpose."

About Me

Marketing and Communication professional with expertise in corporate social responsibility (CSR), stakeholder management, project coordination, and cross-functional execution. I translate strategy into clear communication plans, executive-ready reporting, and structured workflows that improve alignment across teams and drive sustainable impact.

At Econocom International Italia, I lead CSR strategy development and corporate communication initiatives while coordinating C-level project reviews, communication planning, and performance monitoring to support business priorities and transformation initiatives. At CBA Law Firm, I led a firm-wide rebranding project and digital communication improvements, contributing to a 20% increase in engagement in one quarter. At Roche, I managed internal communication activities for over 500 employees and coordinated cross-functional projects and corporate events.

I am looking to contribute in roles where operational discipline, communication clarity, CSR alignment, and collaboration drive measurable business and social impact.
